Rounds 17 & 18 – Zhejiang Circuit, China – 7 / 8 October 2017

RACE REPORT

Jean-Karl Vernay moves a few steps closer to the title Gabriele Tarquini and Rob Huff share race victories

The first TCR International Series event at the new Zhejiang Circuit provided two exciting races that may have changed the course of the championship before the final race meeting at Dubai.

As far as the title fight is concerned, Leopard Racing's Jean-Karl Vernay has moved a few steps closer to being crowned the successor of his former teammate Stefano Comini. The Frenchman has scored the maximum of points in Race 1 and only one point in Race 2, but as his closest rival Attila Tassi's tally was limited to 7 points, he has stretched the leading margin to 21.

As for the other contenders – Stefano Comini and Roberto Colciago – they are now 42 and 46 points adrift respectively, meaning that their hopes have nearly completely vanished when 55 points are still on offer.

Should Vernay be successful in his quest for the crown, he must concede some credit to Rob Huff, who placed himself at the team's service with great professionalism. And Huff was rewarded today by a splendid victory in Race 2, on his final appearance in the current season.

But, arguably, the talk of the town for the weekend was the debut of the two Hyundai i30 N TCR cars run by BRC Racing and driven by touring car legends Gabriele Tarquini and Alain Menu. And what a debut it was! Fastest in qualifying, the two Korean cars were relegated to 13th and 14th on the grid for both races because they had been accepted under a temporary homologation form. Despite this, they put on a great show and Tarquini claimed an impressive victory in Race 1 that immediately resulted in a change of BoP before the second race: 40 kilos added to the minimum weight and a power reduction to 95%.

In any case, it is clear that a new and competitive brand has joined TCR, adding further spice to a consistent growth in quality that was also proved by the fact that today's race victories were shared by two World Champions.

The TCR International Series will come to an end at Dubai, on November 17 and 18.

Race 1 – Hyundai wins maiden race with Tarquini

Gabriele Tarquini put in an impressive performance at the Zhejiang Circuit, recovering from starting 14th on the grid to lead under the chequered flag and so giving the Hyundai i30 N TCR a victory in its maiden race in the International Series.

However, as the Korean car has been accepted under a temporary homologation form, the 25 championship points were awarded to Jean-Karl Vernay who finished second in the Leopard Racing Volkswagen Golf GTI. The Frenchman was followed by two other Volkswagen drivers: his own teammate Rob Huff and WestCoast Racing's Gianni Morbidelli.

Pepe Oriola salvaged fifth place after having led for most of the race and having been involved in a couple of controversial collisions with Vernay and Morbidelli.

The results helped Vernay to stretch his leadership in the Drivers' championship to 26 points ahead of M1RA's Attila Tassi who finished 11th (and 10th of the scorers) after having been pushed wide after the start.

Key facts

Grid – Homola and Jiang are at the back of the grid following an engine change and grid penalty for a parc fermé infringement respectively

Start – Huff makes a poor start from pole, Oriola squeezes between Huff and Vernay to take the lead; Menu hits Dupont and sends him crashing into the pit wall

Lap 1 – Tassi is pushed wide at Turn 2; Oriola leads from Vernay, Morbidelli, Vervisch and Huff; Tarquini overtakes Lloyd for sixth; Borković stops with a pierced radiator

Lap 2 – Tarquini overtakes Huff and Vervisch moving up to fourth

Lap 3 – Tarquini overtakes Morbidelli for third; Lloyd pits and retires after a contact

Lap 4 – Huff overtakes Morbidelli for fourth; Menu overtakes Vervisch for sixth

Lap 5 – Menu is given a drive-through penalty for the collision at the start

Lap 6 – Tarquini overtakes Vernay for second

Lap 7 – Zhang and Homola make contact

Lap 9 – Oriola is chased by Tarquini, Vernay and Huff

Lap 11 – Tarquini overtakes Oriola for the the lead

Lap 12 – Vernay and Oriola make contact, Oriola drops to fourth behind Vernay and Huff

Lap 13 – Oriola and Morbidelli clash on the pit straight, Morbidelli moves up to fourth

Lap 14 – Kajaia overtakes Nash for eighth

Lap 19 – Tarquini wins the race, but Vernay, Huff and Morbidelli score the points for the top three positions in the championship

Race 2 – Huff wins the toughest race of the season

Rob Huff leaves the current season of the TCR International Series on a high note. The former World Champion claimed victory at Zhejiang Circuit in a race that will be remembered as one of the toughest ever in Touring Car competitions.

The drivers delivered close and thrilling battles for every position and – rather exceptionally – all these clashes, contacts, pushing and paint-swapping did not result in major incidents. All the drivers were able to keep on racing, demonstrating great skill in handling their battered cars.

Gianni Morbidelli finished the race in second position, overtaking James Nash on the last lap. Nash had bravely led most of the race in his SEAT before being forced to concede to the fastest Volkswagen cars.

Alain Menu was fourth in a Hyundai that was hit by an increase in weight and a reduction of power after Tarquini's display of strength in Race 1.

As far as the title fight was concerned, the event favoured Jean-Karl Vernay who leaves China with a leading margin of 21 points in the Drivers' championship ahead of Attila Tassi.

Key facts

Grid – Borković, Dupont and Lloyd are missing following damage obtained in Race 1

Start – Vervisch on pole and Nash start well and swerve to the left before Kajaia; there is commotion in the first turns, Nash takes the lead from Kajaia, Vervisch, Tassi, Morbidelli, Oriola and Colciago; Vernay is pushed wide by Comini and drops to 15th

Lap 1 – Colciago and Huff overtake Oriola for 6th and 7th

Lap 2 – Nash pulls away, while Vervisch, Kajaia and Morbidelli have a tough fight behind him; Colciago overtakes Tassi for 5th

Lap 3 – Tassi is given a drive-through penalty for a jump start

Lap 4 – the fight for second heats up, Vervisch, Morbidelli, Kajaia and Huff make several contacts, eventually Kajaia clashes with Huff and retires

Lap 5 – Huff elbows his way past Morbidelli for third

Lap 6 – there are more contacts between Vervisch, Huff and Morbidelli; Huff overtakes Vervisch for second

Lap 7 – Menu overtakes Colciago and Oriola for fifth; Vernay overtakes Panis for 10th

Lap 8 – Oriola overtakes Colciago for 6th; Tarquini overtakes Colciago for 7th; Vernay overtakes Zhang for 9th

Lap 9 – Tarquini overtakes Oriola for 6th

Lap 11 – Vernay overtakes Colciago for 8th

Lap 12 – Tarquini and Menu overtake Vervisch who drops to 7th

Lap 14 – Vernay, Vervisch and Colciago collide; Vervisch retires, Vernay pits to replace a wheel

Lap 15 – Huff has completely eliminated Nash's leading gap

Lap 16 – Huff overtakes Nash for the lead

Lap 17 – Morbidelli overtakes Nash for second; Menu overtakes Tarquini for 4th

Lap 18 – Oriola overtakes Tarquini for 5th

Lap 19 – Huff wins from Morbidelli, Nash, Menu and Oriola; Zhang claims a brilliant 7th position

Quotes from the podium finishers in the two races

Gabriele Tarquini (Winner of Race 1): "What a great weekend for Hyundai, the team and myself. I certainly did not expect that and this will stay as one of the best memories in my career. To win at our debut just proves that the excellent work done pays off. Our pace in Race 1 was great. I was lucky not to be involved in any incidents at the start and to be already 7th in lap 1, having started from P14. I then realized I had a chance to win and pushed hard, despite the fact we had some fears after having encountered problems with the oil radiator in practice and qualifying. Luckily, the issue did not occur again and I could pass everybody and take the lead. In Race 2, of course, we did not have the same pace, with 40 kilos more and 95% of the power, especially towards the end of the race, the car began struggling. The weekend really was not bad for a newcomer to the series. At the end of the day, I am a rookie in TCR!"

Rob Huff (Winner of Race 2, 3rd in Race 1): "Race 2 was probably one of the toughest and most aggressive race I have been involved in, but also a very enjoyable one, as we came on top! It was an excellent weekend for the entire Leopard Racing team, the car was very competitive here and the team did a fantastic job. More importantly, Jean-Karl has regained the championship lead and will go to Dubai with a significant advantage. My mission was to help him and I think that I achieved what was expected from me. I won't be racing in Dubai but I enjoyed very much my stay in the TCR and hope to be back."

Jean-Karl Vernay (2nd in Race 1): "It was a great weekend for us and I am very happy. The car was terrific, and it was important to get the points of the victory in Race 1, which was definitely better than Race 2, which saw too much fighting. We knew the track would suit the Golf, and we used well the opportunity, which allowed us to approach the final round with some confidence, although the job is far from finished."

Gianni Morbidelli (2nd in Race 2): "I am very happy of the weekend, it's great to see that our season has improved dramatically since Oschersleben and it is important to be finishing on high notes such as today. The races here were fun, but also a little bit dirty, especially Race 2. Some drivers were a little bit over the limit in closing the door, attacking or pushing."

James Nash (3rd in Race 2): "It's a little bit frustrating to finish Race 2 in third after having led with a 7-second gap, but I really made everything I could. At the beginning, I managed to pass Kajaia and Vervisch to take the lead and pulled away, building quite some gap. But then the others caught me again. I did not make mistakes and had no issues, their pace was simply much faster than mine. There was much rubbing in Race 2, but I am sure it made a great TV show!"
